

Q2

New LED signature in a sharp design.

The new Audi Q2 looks powerful, dynamic and radiates presence. Front octagonal Singleframe and streamlined rear all combine with large pentagonal inserts in bumpers. Side corners, edges and polygonal shoulders accentuate the large wheel arches.

Eye-catching, fun to drive

Progressive steering ensures excellent handling while maneuvering and great driving on winding roads. The wishbones and MacPherson suspension struts guide the front wheels, and a torsion-beam structure is installed in the rear.

The 20 centimeters ground clearance does well on unpaved roads.

Robust and sporty all-around, the compact SUV is longer at 4.21 meters with 2.60 meters wheelbase, 1.79 meters wide and 1.54 meters high.

The Audi Q2 comes with 17-inch alloy wheels in 5-spoke V-style 7.0 J x 17 design and 215/55 R17 tires.

Audi Q2 35 TFSI Cylinder On demand

The eight-speed S tronic automatic transmission is coupled to the turbocharged 1.4 TFSI engine.

Four cylinders in line feature Cylinder On Demand to deliver 110 kW (150 horse power) producing 250 Nm of torque between 1,500 and 3,500 rpm.

At low loads and engine speeds, its efficient COD temporarily deactivates the second and third cylinders.

Fuel consumption is low. The sprint from 0 to 100 km/h takes only 8.6 seconds.

The spacious interior of the Audi Q2 seats comfortably five people. The seats come in a combination of leather and artificial leather.

The voluminous 405 liters luggage compartment expands to 1,050 liters with rear seat backs folded down.
